Towards Crystalline States of Expression Empowering the Intangible Creative Self from Within

This workshop enhances creative potentials of individual and group processes. We use attention and intention to activate creative potentials and empower the intangible within. Through breath, sound, touch and movement we contact glands of the endocrine system as classified by Body-Mind Centering®, and embark on a journey of embodying, experiencing and expressing the glandular insights. Towards crystalline states of expression.
